

As a flight attendant, this issue affects my job and could threaten the sense of security and safety of passengers. Leave the rules as they are. There are far greater possible risks by allowing phone usage than any possible benefits proposed. I do not see any justification for accepting the risk.